Deputy Paz dwelt on the many other mistakes the Intendente had made in endeavouring to embellish the city, and, in conclusion, declared the Municipality to be a useless ornament, a piece of painted paste!

The Minister of Interior supported the project, basing his opinion on the necessity of immediately introducing some improvements to ameliorate the sanitary condition of the city.

A discussion here arose between Deputy Gorostiaga and the Minister with regard to the delay in the passing of the organic law of the Municipality.

"It appears," deputy Gorostiaga observed, "that the Executive has been singularly negligent, and, I may say prudent, with reference to the point in question. This, no doubt, is the reason why the Municipal law has not been included in the 'asuntos de proposito.'

Public opinion is very excited, especially against the President of the Council, Sr. Estrup, and it is difficult to forecast the "demonum" of a most critical situation.

Constantinople, 5th.

To-day the much-talked-of Conference took place. The first meeting was taken up with examining the credentials of the delegates, and naming a President. As was expected the choice fell unanimously on the President of the Council of Ministers, Secretary for Foreign Affairs of Turkey, Saat Baja.

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

Constantinople, 4th.—The greatest activity continues to prevail at the War-Office. The present attitude of the Porte tends to prove that Turkey is confident the Powers will decide the Emeumatic difficulty in a peaceful and satisfactory manner.

London, 4th.—Mr. Stead's trial continued to-day. The Counsel for the defendant stated that the fact that Mrs. Armstrong consented to give up her daughter precluded the possibility of crime. The Judge did not share this view of the question.

Mr. Stead delivered a powerful and eloquent speech before the Jury, explaining the motives that had urged him to follow his strange line of conduct in the Eliza Armstrong case. Mr. Stead bases his defense on the desire to prove, beyond doubt, the facility with which young girls can be abducted.

Owing to the intestine troubles in Hayti, the British and French Diplomatic Representatives have telegraphed to their respective Governments for war vessels to protect the interest of the foreign community.

Yakima (Washington) 4th.—In consequence of the expiration of the term fixed for the departure of the Chinese residents, many hundreds of indignant citizens marched "en masse" to the houses of the expelled residents, and prevailed on them to leave the town.

Galveston, 4th.—Several workmen's associations met last night. It was $1,250,000.

One per thousand on the capital represented by $1,250,000 Contribution was equivalent to $250,000 annually. It is known, from trustworthy sources, that all the workmen employed in the Santa Fe Railway will strike, and if the terms demanded be not agreed to by the various companies, similar strikes are likely to take place all over the country.

From the prompt measures which have been taken by the Santa Fe

EDITOR'S TABLE

All friends of humanity will be glad to hear that the Damas do Beneficencia have taken the poor Indian women and children from the Chaco in hands. They will hire them to respectable families that will treat them well, and in no case shall children be separated from their mothers.

Electric clocks are the order of the day for the capital of the Province of Buenos Ayres. All the public clocks are to be connected by wire with the "big" electric clock in what is called the Observatory there.

The Italian Exhibition building at the Pocito is going ahead. The roof is all but finished. We're pained to say that we don't think much of the architecture; but anything does for an exhibition or anything else in this favoured clime.

The War Minister has courteously given the Rowing Club all they asked for and more" for the regatta on Wednesday next—the steamer Talita, two steamers, two military bands, etc. Lots of new bonnets are being bought and old ones made as good as new for the pleasant occasion. We most devoutly hope it won't rain. Just fancy if it should!

The poor Lord Mayor cannot get a copper from anybody. The National Bank won't give him a rap for his Boulevard, nor Congress a cent, nor Olavarria paving stones; so he is in a quandary. The best way out of it is to make a year's trip to Europe, and get Boulevards and paving stones and grottoes out of his head. By the way!

We're blessed if his Lordship is not putting up another grotto in the little Plazaleta in Calle Peru, where Cassells had his Electric Light machinery. His Lordship is evidently "off his ed" about grottoes.

Monsieur Thibaud's concert on Wednesday night was largely patronized by the upper crust. He played all night, and did not appear a bit knocked up at the finish.

Poor Captain Soranegui of the Bomberos has gone raving mad. He was gradually losing his eyesight, owing to injuries received at fires, and the thought that he would soon lose it altogether, and be unable to support his aged mother, pried on his mind, and his reason gave way. His form of madness is that he is always present at imaginary fires, shouting out orders to his men.

The Sebastiani company will debut to-morrow night in the Florida Gardens, in Lucia, or some other tip-top opera. There will be fireworks and Bengali lights to wind up the evening.

Viva! The Upper Parana is to be buoyed from Itaizingo to Fosadas.

The Capital of Rosario refers to some extraordinary political plot for making away with the Rev. Governor of Santa Fé and upsetting everything in that province. Nonsense, etc.

There was a bit of a shindy at the Municipal elections in Rosario on Sunday last, but nothing very serious. Of course, the voting was the usual farce, as the official party worked their own sweet will at the "mess."

The say that applications for Argentine citizenship are increasing very fast. Can the elections have anything to say to this?

The "chango" gang on the mole are still making war on the Express Agency. A boat employed by the Agency was stolen the other night. A nice watch the Capitanis must keep at night.

Bad news from Germany! "The treasury of South Germany have been thrown into a state of consternation over the sudden and inexplicable departure from the country of the rocks, which for centuries have made their abode there. The flocks which nested in the spires of the Rathaus (Bavaria) Cathedral recently departed and have not returned. This general evacuation is regarded by the people as heralding the approach of an epidemic of cholera."

Colonel Olcesca, Governor of Neuquen, will start for his Territory next week, taking a lot of colonists with him. We wish them all God-speed.

Lots of fellows of the "Waiting-for-remitance Ese," family are thinking of starting for the gold-washings of Santa Cruz. It's only fair to wish them God-speed also.

Another bad case of cruelty to one of the Indians from the Chaco is reported. It is rather disconcerting that nothing has yet been heard about punishment for the civil or military parties who are responsible for the atrocities, which are far > than any ever perpetrated in Bulgaria.

Messrs. Oller and Arroyo of Bahia Blanca had a slight difference of opinion the other day; and one was skinned through the stomach with a case sword, and the other had his head battered in with the handle of a "robo-buque."

The Tandil papers are in convulsions over a well of sweet water that burst up in a quarry near there the other day, while some natives were cutting out what our illustrious colleague La Industria is pleased to call "Argentine paving stones." The water is said to be of wonderful purity, and mixes beautifully with Martell brandy or Scotch whiskey. This country is not becoming Italianized so fast, as some people imagine. Some interesting figures were published yesterday, showing that in the last 12 months and ten months only 423,000 Litigians arrived here; and if death and the number of those who returned to Europe be deducted from this figure, we have not got many "carri italiani" in the republic after all.

Zara, the witch, is again free. She had to pay 124 Nats for "doing" Mrs Murray de Naughton out of four beautiful new National Bank dollar notes fresh from London. Zara says that our old heathen Turk of a "pater," sui Mahomedis Luko, as great an old sinner as the Prophet himself, gave her the secret remedy thus cures all ills.

The police seized a lot of drugs, powders etc, that Zara swallows she brought from the East. If the truth could be known, we should not be surprised to hear that Zara is as much a Tunisian as Shalukh, and that she was born in Shoreditch, Montmartre, or Dirty Lane.

GEORGETOWN, DEMERARA, JAN 17,
1873. Gentlemen:—I suffered for eight months with pain in my right knee, which was so bad that I could not stand or walk without it. I called in Dr. P. Wilson, and he recommended me to try Bresler's SARAPARILLA and PILLS, and after using them for a week, I was relieved of the trouble
